fast-agent

fast-agent has been built to solve the practical problems of developing agent-based systems.

It aims to have as little friction between agent designer and LLM as possible.

The lightweight, declarative syntax means that instructions, server configurations, prompts and compositions are simple to maintain in version control, alongside associated artefacts.

It's MCP native and fully multi-modal, with support for Prompts and Resources allowing seamless interchange between agents.